Professional summary

This word, "fashion," has its own unique inventiveness. Everyone has a unique personality and sense of style, which gives them a unique appearance. The first thing we notice about somebody is their sense of style. Since high school, I've developed a distinct wardrobe that sets me apart from all of my friends. I wanted to stand out from the crowd. My cousins and friends used to flock to me for guidance. I came to understand that fashion helps me feel and look nice. I had no idea that my love of fashion would inspire me to want to start internship for experience.

Yet I may have lack of experience, but I promise to give my best effort and work diligently to provide you with satisfaction. I sincerely hope that you will give me a chance to kickstart my career in fashion styling and assist me in advancing my professional path.

THANK YOU
